

SEN INFORMATION REPORT 2019/20

1. What kinds of special educational needs does the school/setting make provision for?

We aim to provide every student with access to a broad and balanced education. This includes the National Curriculum in line with the Special Educational Needs Code of Practice. We believe that provision for students with special educational needs is the responsibility of the whole school community requiring a whole school response.

Our work is guided by

- The Children and Families Act 2014 and
- The Special Educational Needs Code of Practice 2014

We support students who may be experiencing difficulties in the following areas

- Communication and Interaction
- Cognition and Learning
- Sensory and Physical
- Social, Emotional and Mental Health

2. How does the school/setting know if pupils need extra help and what should I do if I think that my child may have special educational needs?

At The Becket School we have adopted a whole-school approach to Special Educational Needs policy and practice. As far as is practicable, students identified as having Special Educational Needs are fully integrated into mainstream classes. All teachers are responsible for identifying students with Special Educational Needs and, in collaboration with the Special Educational Needs Coordinator, will seek to ensure that those students requiring different or additional support are identified as early as possible.

Information is gathered on transition into the school through contact with parents/carers, education, health and care services. Information is also gathered through contact with the feeder school.

If parents/carers have concerns they can contact the SENCO by phone or email. The SENCO will reply as soon as is possible. Alternatively they can contact the student's tutor or progress leader.

3a) How does the school/setting evaluate the effectiveness of its provision for pupils with special educational needs?

The SEN Information report will be reviewed annually. The last review took place on 20/06/19.

In order to make consistent continuous progress in relation to SEND provision the school encourages feedback from staff, parents and students throughout the year. Student, staff and parent voice is used as part of the quality assurance process.

The Governing Body will report annually to parents on the success of the SEND policy and provision.

Student progress will provide evidence for the success of the Special Educational Needs policy and this will be analysed carefully through:

- Consideration of each student's success in meeting individual targets.
- Use of standardised tests.
- Evidence generated from review meetings.

Student progress will be monitored on a termly basis in line with the SEND Code of Practice.

Provision mapping will be used to monitor, review and evaluate interventions used to support students. Information from provision management will be used to identify how effective provision is in enabling students to achieve academic and wider outcomes.

There is an annual formal evaluation of the effectiveness of the school SEND provision and policy. The evaluation is carried out by the SENCo and Assistant Head with responsibility for Inclusion. Information is gathered from different sources including student and parent surveys, teacher and staff surveys, parent's evenings, consultation evening and feedback through review meetings. This will be collated and published by the Governing Body on an annual basis in accordance with section 69 of the Children and Families Act 2014.

Evidence collected will help inform school development and improvement planning.

3b) How will both the school/setting and I know how my child/young person is doing and how will the school/setting help me to support their learning?

Parents are kept up to date with their student's progress through progress reports, parent's evenings, provision reviews, CAF reviews and team around the child meetings.

Reviews will be undertaken in line with agreed dates. The review process will evaluate the impact of any interventions and make necessary adjustments. The views of parents/carers and the student are central to planning future provision and will be sought in the most appropriate manner.

Parental involvement may be sought, where appropriate, to reinforce or contribute to progress at home.

3c) What is the school's approach to teaching pupils with special educational needs?

Where it is determined that a student does have SEND, parents will be formally advised of this. The aim of formally identifying a student with SEND is to help school ensure that effective provision is put in place and so remove barriers to learning. The support provided consists of a four – part process:

Assess

Plan

Do

Review

This is an on-going cycle to enable the provision to be refined and revised as the understanding of the needs of the student grows. This cycle enables the identification of those interventions which are the most effective in supporting the student to achieve good progress and outcomes.

3d) How will the curriculum and learning be matched to my child/young person's needs?

The student's subject teachers will take steps to provide differentiated learning opportunities that will aid the student's academic progression and enable the teacher to better understand the provision and teaching style that needs to be applied. The SENCO will be consulted as needed for support and advice.

3e) How are decisions made about the type and amount of support my child/young person will receive?

The Governing Body will endeavour to ensure that resources are available to support appropriate provision for all students requiring it.

All students with SEND will have access to Element 1 and 2 of a school's budget. Some students with SEND may access additional funding. This additional funding might be from a budget which is devolved to and moderated by the Family of Schools. (The Family of Schools comprises of a secondary school and its feeder primary schools). For those with the most complex needs, additional funding is retained by the local authority. This is accessed through the Family of Schools. The Family SENCO will refer individual applications to a multi-agency panel, which is administered by the Local Authority, who will determine whether the level and complexity of need meets the threshold for this funding.

The Special Educational Needs Coordinator in collaboration with the subject teacher will decide the action required to help the student progress. Based on the results of previous assessments, the actions may be:

- Deployment of extra staff to work with the student.
- Provision of alternative learning materials or special equipment.
- Group support.
- Provision of additional adult time in devising interventions and monitoring their effectiveness.

- Staff development and training to undertake more effective strategies.
- Access to LA support services for advice on strategies, equipment, or staff training.

3f) How will my child/young person be included in activities outside the classroom, including school trips?

Our aim is to ensure that students with Special Educational Needs and/or disabilities take as full a part as possible in all school activities. This will involve liaison between the student, family and any external agencies involved with the student to endeavour to remove any barriers to experience that may exist.

3g) What support will there be for my child/young person's overall well-being?

Pastoral support is provided through the tutor and progress leader for each year group. If there are concerns around a student's well-being they will be discussed with appropriate staff from within the Inclusion team.

The Inclusion team meet weekly to discuss and monitor the needs of our students. The school will seek advice, as appropriate, around individual students, from external support services through the termly 'Springboard meetings', Early Help Unit and the Multi-Agency Safeguarding Hub.

4. Who is the school/setting's special educational needs coordinator (SENCO) and what are their contact details.

The person responsible for overseeing the provision for children with SEND is the Assistant Head with responsibility for Inclusion.

The person coordinating the day to day provision of education for students with SEND is the Leader of Learning for SEND (SENCO).

Parents can contact the SENCO by phone or email. The SENCO will reply as soon as is possible.

5a) What training have staff supporting special educational needs had and what is planned?

We aim to keep all school staff up to date with relevant training and developments in teaching practice in relation to the needs of students with SEND.

Our school accesses training through LA conferences, LA training events, Family of School training events, Trust events, Rushcliffe SENCO Forum events and through private and voluntary providers. Training needs are considered for subject staff, teaching assistants, NQT's, parents and Midday supervisors.

The SENCO attends relevant SEND courses, Family SEND meetings and facilitates/signposts relevant SEND focused external training opportunities for all staff. We recognize the need to train all our staff on SEND issues. The SENCO, with the leadership team, ensures that training opportunities are matched to school development priorities and those identified through the use of provision management.

5b) What specialist services and expertise are available or accessed by the setting/school?

The school continues to build strong working relationships and links with external support services in order to fully support our SEND students and aid school inclusion.

Sharing knowledge and information with our support services is key to the effective and successful SEND provision within our school. Any one of the support services may raise concerns about a student. This will then be brought to the attention of the SENCO who will then inform the student's parents.

The Special Educational Needs Coordinator in collaboration with the subject teacher will decide the action required to help the student progress. Based on the results of previous assessments, the actions may be:

7. What are the arrangements for consulting parents of pupils with special educational needs? How will be I involved in the education of my child/young person?

The Becket School believes that a close working relationship with parents is vital in order to ensure

- early and accurate identification and assessment of SEND leading to the correct intervention and provision
- continuing social and academic progress of children with SEND
- personal and academic targets are set and met effectively

Parents are kept up to date with their child's progress through progress reports, parent's evenings, progress days, provision reviews, CAF reviews and team around the child meetings.

In cases where more frequent regular contact with parents is necessary, this will be arranged based on the individual student's needs.

If an assessment or referral indicates that a student has additional learning needs the parents and the student will always be consulted with regards to future provision. Parents are invited to attend meetings with external agencies regarding their child, and are kept up to date and consulted on any points of action drawn up in regards to the provision for their child.

8. What are the arrangements for consulting young people with SEN and involving them in their education?

Whenever possible, student's opinions and views will be sought. They will be encouraged to be involved in setting their learning targets and in evaluating their progress. Their views will be central to decisions made about any necessary support. Whenever possible students will be encouraged to attend their review meetings.

The Becket School carries out quality assurance including the use of student voice. Students with SEND are involved in this process.

9. What do I do if I have a concern or complaint about the SEN provision made by the school/setting?

The School's Complaints Procedure should be used if the need arises.

If a parent or carer has any concerns or complaints regarding the care or welfare of their student, an appointment can be made by them to speak to the SENCO, who will be able to advise on formal procedures for complaint.

10. How does the governing body involve other organisations and services (e.g. health, social care, local authority support services and voluntary organisations) in meeting the needs of pupils with special educational needs and supporting the families of such pupils?

The school continues to build strong working relationships and links with external support services in order to fully support our SEND students and aid school inclusion.

Sharing knowledge and information with our support services is central to the effective and successful SEND provision within our school. Any one of the support services may raise concerns about a student. This will then be brought to the attention of the SENCO who will then inform the student's parents.

The following services will be involved as and when is necessary:

- Educational Psychology
- Schools and Family Specialist Services(SFSS)
- Educational Welfare
- School nurses
- Social services
- Speech and Language therapists
- Paediatricians and specialist health professionals

In cases where a student is under observation or a cause for concern, focused meetings will be arranged with the appropriate agency. Parents will normally be invited to and informed about any meetings held concerning their child unless there are over-riding safeguarding issues.

The School recognises the important contribution which external support services make in assisting to identify, assess, and provide for students with Special Educational Needs.

When it is considered necessary, colleagues from the LA Children and Young Peoples support services will be involved with students with Special Educational Needs.

The school has an Education Welfare Officer who works across the trust and works closely with the SEND department.

- The Futures Service.
- The business community.
- Faith in Families

11. How does the school/setting seek to signpost organisations, services etc. who can provide additional support to parents/carers/young people?

The SEND Local Offer is a resource which is designed to support children and young people with special educational needs and/or disabilities and their families. It describes the services and provision that are available both to those families in Nottinghamshire that have an Education, Health and Care Plan and those who do not have a plan, but still experience some form of special educational need. The SEND Local Offer includes information about public services across education, health and social care, as well as those provided by the private, voluntary and community sectors.

It can be accessed at www.nottinghamshire.sendlocaloffer.org.uk
